 General Meeting Minutes
 PPL - Founder's Suite
 March 20, 2010

Meeting called to order at 10:00 a.m. with Allen Laudenslager presiding. We had twenty-four members and one guest. The guest was Judith Witt.

Roger Lakner did a presentation on the application "Live Interior 3D" by BelightSoft.com. The 2D/3D CAD showed us how we could design a home using different paint colors, furniture placement, lighting fixtures and more. The exterior we could try different paint colors and we could take a picture of the house and superimpose into the program. It is a great program for anybody remodeling or moving into a new house.

The Business meeting was held at 11:30 a.m. Allen presiding.

The reports from Officers and Chairs were given.

Roger made some changes to the website. Members will have to email him if they want the passwords to the Ambassador discounts. This change was made to allow only members access to the discounts. The discounts for Peachpit and O'Reilly books can still be found on the Benefits page.

John Carter is in the process of making a number of changes to the website. The "Guest Pass" button will now be a "Join Now" button. By clicking on that, it will take you to a new application form the people can print out and send in with their check. The newsletter (Blog) will have it's own tab at the top of the Home page. The "Reviews" page will have a new format.

Randy Calvert commented that he gets very few requests for library books. Pam Wickstrom donated a manual for the Panther version of Mac OS X.

Elaine, Editor gave us some handouts on email tips and quick ways to find things in the hard drive.

Bobbie had new name tags with an updated logo for all the members.

We approved the minutes for last month. Allen took some questions from the floor. The speaker for next month was not determined at this time.

John Carter gave away two Parallels programs as door prizes. The winners were Arnold Watson and Carleton Douglas.

We adjourned at 12 noon.
