

Software Review by Wm. Roger Lakner

For

Power on Software's Application - Now Up-to-Date & Contact 4.2.5

Power on Software / Now Software

I whole heartily recommend this application as it is really a full featured friendly business program with internal and external peripheral capabilities. The Now Software site has done a real creditable job of taking and running with Power On's work and presenting it to the public.

provided a demonstration of this program at our May 15th Peninsula Apple Users Group evening meeting. Since that time there has been a couple of changes made on Now Software's site, that I wish to mention up front as they were the only concerns brought up by those attending (we did not cause these changes unless there were vibrations being passed).

One concern pertained to the difficulty of taking the information from Apple's Address Book application and transferring the data to Contact for those using Mac OS X.2. Now Software has a Sync program that will take the data and transfer it to Contact without the cut and paste or drag functions and or use of a Word processor text file. The Sync file can be downloaded at: <http://www.nowsoftware.com>

The other item was about getting a visual overview of the programs capabilities without having to read a big book or help pages. Again, Now Software has designed a super Flash set of pages that does a great job of helping a business to see up front what an all encompassing program it is as well as justifying its cost. View it at: <http://www.nowsoftware.com/nowflash1/Now04a.html>

An online support center and FAQ system (which they continually update) can be accessed at: <http://support.poweronsoftware.com> or just phone 1- 800-344-9160.

A newsletter mailing list is available on this and any other Power On Software product at: <http://www.poweronsoftware.com/newsletter/signup.asp>

Now Up-to-Date & Contact can be downloaded for a free 30 day Demo at: <http://www.nowsoftware.com>

This software package may be obtained at several price levels dependant upon the package you choose. Versions are available for Mac OS 8.6-9x, OS X, Windows XP, and Palm with conduit.

I must say that I agree with the computer magazines that Now is once again a true winner and a must buy professional application.